

This Retirement Advice Disclosure (PTE 84-24) document (“Disclosure”) has been provided to you in connection with a recommendation involving a variable annuity or proprietary mutual fund (“Mutual Fund”) using funds from your individual retirement account (“IRA”) or retirement plan account (“Plan”) subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”). This also includes funds you transferred from another IRA or rolled over from an ERISA-covered retirement plan to your IRA at Thrivent Investment Management Inc. (“Thrivent,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) and/or the receipt of sales commission or other compensation in a covered account type as a result of a recommendation from your Thrivent financial professional (“Financial Professional”). Carefully review the important information contained in this Disclosure in conjunction with the documentation you will receive for your specific product (e.g., annuity contract and mutual fund prospectus) before approving the recommended transaction.

Thrivent offers a broad range of products and services designed to help you meet your financial goals and needs. However, this range is limited to who we have selling agreements with and other limitations we may impose based on our due diligence process. The products and services your Financial Professional can offer depend on the insurance licenses and securities registrations they hold and those which we have granted them to offer. This means your Financial Professional may not be able to offer all products and services described in this document. Your Financial Professional will tell you which products and services they can or cannot offer.

Charges, fees, discounts, penalties or adjustments

Fees vary based on the investment product and affect net investment performance. Depending on the product you select, this and other important information can be found in the prospectus, confirmation, and/or product disclosures, which you should carefully review.

No matter how many people are involved in supporting the recommendation of a product, what you pay is the same.

Variable annuities

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans will pay your Financial Professional a sales commission for selling a variable annuity to you. The first year (“first year commission”) and subsequent (“trailing commissions”) commission payments will vary depending on the variable annuity purchased and other factors as described below.

Fees and expenses—variable annuities

Depending on the nonproprietary variable annuity you decide to purchase, sales commissions will be based on the compensation option selected by your Financial Professional at the time of application and either the age of the oldest owner at contract issue (“issue age”) or attained age of the oldest of all annuitants and/or owners (“attained age”).<sup>3</sup> Ask your Financial Professional for the compensation option that they will select as a result of you deciding to purchase a nonproprietary variable annuity and if the third-party company uses either issue age or attained age when calculating commission payments.

Sales charges are deducted from the monies being deposited and are described in the corresponding Mutual Fund prospectus. Due to sales charges being deducted, the actual amount invested into the Mutual Fund selected will be less than the amount provided to your Financial Professional. As a result, overall performance of your account will be reduced as these funds are not invested into the Mutual Fund. Higher sales charges will result in a greater impact on your investment performance, especially over time, and should be carefully considered before rolling over assets or investing. Sales charges do not apply to 403(b) accounts. The amount that was received by Thrivent Distributors, LLC, the principal underwriter for Mutual Funds, for investing can be found on both your trade confirmation and account statement.

Conflicts of interest

The receipt of compensation (either directly or indirectly) creates a conflict of interest between us and you. We manage this conflict through our policies and procedures, conducting due diligence reviews of the products and services that can be recommended, disclosing material conflicts to clients and prospective clients, and by training our Financial Professionals, including, but not limited to, on the need to act in your best interest. Below are different forms of compensation we can earn while providing you with recommendations as a broker-dealer.

- We distribute and serve as the primary underwriter of variable annuities and variable life insurance products issued by Thrivent Financial for Lutherans, so it is generally not possible to transfer them to another broker-dealer. We also distribute Thrivent Exchange Traded Funds ("Thrivent ETFs") and Thrivent Mutual Funds that are advised by Thrivent Asset Management, LLC. These securities ("proprietary products") may be recommended to you by your Financial Professional. When you purchase or invest in proprietary products, we and our affiliates are paid from fees and/or premiums that are charged to you.
- We may recommend securities from nonaffiliated third-party companies ("nonproprietary products"), which include insurance products, mutual funds, and other securities. When you purchase or invest in nonproprietary securities, we are paid from fees that are charged to you and/or commissions that we receive from these companies.

- When you own certain proprietary and nonproprietary mutual funds, Thrivent and your Financial Professional receive 12b-1 fees from Thrivent Distributors, LLC and nonaffiliated third-party companies. We also receive revenue sharing payments that compensate us for distribution, training, marketing, and sales support services.
- We may pay an affiliated or a nonaffiliated third party a fee for providing educational and administrative services.
- When you purchase a nonproprietary variable annuity or nonproprietary variable life insurance, we receive a commission as a percentage of premium based on certain factors that include total volume of our Financial Professional's product sales, length of time that you continue to pay premiums or keep assets invested in the products sold, and the profitability of the products.
- Thrivent has a contract with National Financial Services, LLC, member NYSE/SIPC, a Fidelity Investments® company, ("NFS") that provides us incentives, such as a business credit, to place assets with NFS, as well as disincentives in the form of charges to us if we were to terminate our contract with NFS before the end of the contract term. We also have an economic interest to also act as the broker-dealer on the execution of securities transactions because of the additional revenue received and an economic incentive to use NFS as our clearing firm for trade execution and custody over other firms that do not or would not provide such economic benefits to us, even if such other firms might be more beneficial to our clients. Accordingly, we have a financial incentive to serve as an introducing broker-dealer and to use NFS for clearing, settlement and custodial services.

The amount and type of compensation paid to your Financial Professional varies and depends on, among other things:

- Their association with Thrivent and if they have an agreement with Thrivent that makes them eligible for a broader range of compensation.
- The products and/or services recommended to you.
- If you actually purchase or invest in a product or account and the length of time that you own the product or are otherwise invested with us.
- Total volume of product sales, length of time that you continue to pay premiums or keep assets invested in the products sold, the profitability of the products, and/or client tenure.
- If you purchase or invest in a proprietary product versus a nonproprietary product.

Your Financial Professional may receive other compensation for providing you with recommendations and/or services. Receipt of compensation (either cash or non-cash compensation) creates conflicts of interest between you and your Financial Professional. We manage these conflicts by training our Financial Professionals on their need to act in your best interest and through our policies and supervisory procedures.

- When you invest in securities with us, a portion of the commissions, fees, and charges you pay are in turn used to compensate your Financial Professional. In addition, please know that:
  - Financial Professionals, who are not employees, use this compensation to pay for their own business expenses, including office space, equipment, and office staff they may employ.
  - Financial Professionals may share this compensation with other Financial Professionals. These fees may be a single payment or ongoing.
  - Based on the commissions they receive, Financial Professionals may receive subsidized retirement and insurance benefits.
- Your Financial Professional receives a portion of the commissions, fees, and charges that you pay when you invest your transferred or rolled over retirement assets (e.g., employer-sponsored 401(k) plan) with us based on their recommendation.
- When you purchase a nonproprietary variable annuity or variable life insurance product, certain Financial Professionals receive compensation based on the commission as a percentage of premium or a fee based on the amount of the assets managed under the product sold.
- Financial Professionals may be eligible to receive non-cash compensation (e.g., attend sales conferences and other recognition events). Receipt of non-cash compensation is based on the amount of "new money" brought into the firm because a client or member purchased certain products and services, including annuities, variable life insurance products, mutual funds, other securities, engaged in dedicated planning services and/or a Financial Professional refers trust services to a client or member. In addition to the criteria listed above, Financial Professionals who also have a long tenure with Thrivent or its affiliates may also be eligible to participate in special recognition events (e.g., Hall of Fame).
- Certain Financial Professionals, who are on teams, may be eligible to participate in a team compensation program that allows the team to qualify for a common payout rate. Compensation for the program is based on the total production of the team, including total volume of product sales, length of time that you continue to pay premiums or keep assets invested in the products sold, and the profitability of the products. As a condition of the team compensation program, each team must maintain certain production levels, including an initial threshold and ongoing production requirements, and a team with more than two producing team members may be required to pay back a portion of compensation received based on the number and tenure of producing team members and the team's gross compensation rates. This program presents a financial incentive to recommend more products or services.

- Thrivent Financial for Lutherans or Thrivent may offer Financial Professionals who are impacted by a natural disaster with financial support in the form of an interest free loan. The offering of a loan is based on Thrivent's determination of the Financial Professional's ability to repay the loan, their amount of sales, and other non-sales related criteria (e.g., being located in the natural disaster zone).
- The Thrivent Financial Advisor Loan Program allows Financial Professionals to apply for loans through our affiliate, Thrivent Bank, to support expanding their practices through Succession Planning. Thrivent Financial for Lutherans or Thrivent is the guarantor of these loans. To be eligible for the program, Financial Professionals must meet certain criteria based on revenue minimums based on all products and services, a percentage of new money over the last 36 months, Financial Professional tenure, team support, an approved Business Continuity Plan, and approval from Thrivent.
