I'm proud to be a Financial Professional with Thrivent, where we believe that humanity thrives when people make the most of what they've been given. I help clients achieve clarity and develop strategies that reflect their values. I help them plan with purpose, save with wisdom and give generously.

Outside of my role at Thrivent, I enjoy the role of husband and I'm a father to two beautiful daughters. When it's time to relax, you'll likely find me fishing at the nearest body of water or going on outdoor adventures with my family.

Some things I am most passionate about are giving back through opportunities in my church and here at Thrivent. I enjoy leading worship at my church on Sundays and donating to the church's missionary work. I also enjoy volunteering through the fantastic opportunities at Thrivent to support communities through helping build homes, connecting with area Boys & Girls Clubs, or donating to initiatives feeding neighbors in need.
