

Thrivent Balanced Income Plus Portfolio

Inception: June 14, 1995

Objective: Thrivent Balanced Income Plus Portfolio seeks long-term total return through a balance between income and the potential for long-term capital growth.

Portfolio key points

Thrivent Balanced Income Plus Portfolio is highly diversified and seeks to generate income from a variety of sources while maintaining potential for capital appreciation.

Strategic targets

The Portfolio's management team employs mean-variance optimization to set strategic targets across several income-producing sectors in order to maximize diversification and income potential while minimizing volatility and interest rate risk.

Variety of income-producing securities

The Portfolio managers invest in a variety of income-producing securities, including bonds and equities. The Portfolio also opportunistically may hold preferred securities, convertible bonds, income-generating closed-end funds, business development corporations and master limited partnerships.

Active portfolio management

Senior portfolio managers manage credit and duration risk at the overall portfolio level, while determining tactical overweights to attractive sectors. Exposure to underlying asset classes is achieved by investing in fundamental and quantitatively-managed equity strategies, alongside a variety of fixed-income strategies, leveraging Thrivent investment teams.

Actively managed for all market environments

Strategic asset allocation is determined using sophisticated quantitative techniques and senior portfolio manager expertise. Tactical allocation decisions utilize a comprehensive process and are implemented in real time.

Risks: The Portfolio's value is influenced by a number of factors, including the performance of the broader market, the effectiveness of the Adviser's allocation strategy, and risks specific to the Portfolio's asset classes, market cap groups, investment styles, and issuers. Debt securities are subject to risks such as declining prices during periods of rising interest rates and credit risk, or the risk that an issuer not pay its debt. When interest rates fall, certain obligations will be paid off more quickly and proceeds may have to be invested in securities with lower yields. Leveraged loans, sovereign debt, and mortgage-related and other asset-backed securities are subject to additional risks. Foreign investments involve additional risks, such as currency fluctuations and political, economic and market instability, which may be magnified for investments in emerging markets. The Adviser's assessment of investments may prove incorrect, resulting in losses or poor performance. The Adviser is also subject to actual or potential conflicts of interest. The Portfolio invests in directly-held equity and debt instruments and in other funds managed by the Adviser or an affiliate. The Portfolio is dependent upon the performance of the other funds and is subject to the risks and additional fees and expenses of the other funds. The use of quantitative investing techniques and derivatives such as futures also involve risks. The Portfolio may engage in active and frequent trading of portfolio securities, which may result in higher transaction costs and higher taxes. When bond inventories are low in relation to the market size, there is the potential for decreased liquidity and increased price volatility. These and other risks are described in the prospectus.

¹Duration: A measure of a portfolio's sensitivity to changes in interest rates; the longer the portfolio's duration, the more sensitive it is. Also, the longer the duration, the greater potential risk or reward.

The Portfolio is only available to the public through a variable life or variable annuity contract. Contact the provider for more information and a contract prospectus which will include information on the additional charges and fees that apply to the specific contract.

Investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. The prospectus and summary prospectus contain more complete information on the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the portfolio, and other information, which investors should read and consider carefully before investing. Prospectuses are available at thriventportfolios.com or by calling 800-847-4836.
