Portfolio Description

The Thrivent Partner Emerging Markets Equity Portfolio invests primarily in companies of countries that are considered to have an "emerging" or "developing" stock market. According to the United Nations, more than fifty percent of the world's population resides in emerging-market countries, such as Brazil, Russia, India and China. Emerging-market countries often have younger, growing populations, an expanding middle class, developing infrastructure and improving monetary and fiscal policies. These factors help contribute to faster growth rates compared to their developed-market country counterparts, but with more volatility.

Investment Strategy/Process

The portfolio management team invests primarily in the equity securities of companies based in emerging stock markets. It uses a disciplined investment process which uses proprietary research to seek to identify quality companies (based on factors such as strength of management and business), that trade at reasonable valuations based on factors such as earnings growth and other key financial measurements.

Portfolio Management & Experience

Aberdeen Asset Managers Limited

Portfolio Start: 2008

Risks: The Portfolio primarily invests in emerging-markets equities. Foreign investments involve additional risks, including currency fluctuations, liquidity, political, economic and market instability, and different legal and accounting standards; these risks are magnified for investments in emerging-markets. The value of the Portfolio is influenced by factors impacting the overall market, certain asset classes, certain investment styles, and specific issuers. The Portfolio may incur losses due to investments that do not perform as anticipated by the investment adviser. Small- and medium-sized companies often have greater price volatility and less liquidity than larger companies. Large-cap companies may be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges as may not be able to attain a high growth rate. To the extent that the financials sector continues to represent a significant portion of the Portfolio, the Portfolio will be sensitive to changes in, and its performance may depend to a greater extent on, factors impacting this sector. These and other risks are described in the Portfolio's prospectus.
